Daisy is Adoptable! :)

At 9 years old, Daisy is discovering what it truly means to be loved. Before entering foster care in January, she spent much of her life living in a garage, without the comfort, stability, and companionship every dog should know. Since then, her foster family has watched her slowly blossom into a devoted and affectionate companion. Daisy is now kennel-trained, leash-trained, and learning household routines beautifully. She does well with potty training outside when let out consistently and continues improving with patience and structure each day.

Because of her past, Daisy is looking for a very specific forever home where she can feel safe and secure. She prefers to be the only pet and would do best in a home without children. With trust, consistency, and feeling physically better, she has formed strong bonds with her foster dad and the adults she knows best.

And the real Daisy? She's a sweetheart. A quiet shadow who simply wants to be near her people, soaking up love and companionship. She would thrive in a calm, lower-activity home with a single person or couple, willing to continue giving her the understanding and stability she has worked so hard to trust. Daisy will need ongoing pain management, but in return she'll offer unwavering loyalty, gentle companionship, and a whole lot of love.

Daisy is spayed and up to date on all age-appropriate vaccinations.

Monthly costs of daily

Medications is around $100.

News & Info

Why is my cat staring at me?!

If your cat is staring at the wall or biting at your ankles for no reason, they are bored! Find interactive toys they can engage with.

SCHS Adoptions

Complete the pre-adoption application. After references are checked, schedule a meet-n-greet. If all goes well, plan to take your new family member home!

What to do if you find a "lost" pet.

Walk the animal around the neighborhood to see if anyone claims it. Post photos on social media. Check for a microchip.

Rescued last month!

Available for adoption soon.

Oreo's Happy Tail!

An update on Oreo — now named Enzo. From the moment we brought him home, Enzo's goofy, spunky personality has completely filled our house with joy. He's full of energy and always ready for his next adventure, but what we didn't expect was how incredibly snuggly he is. After playtime, he "trust-falls" into our lap, demanding belly rubs and snuggles. One of our favorite things is his hilarious army crawl — he flattens himself on his belly and pulls himself forward using just his front legs. It's the funniest move and makes us laugh every time. He has adjusted so beautifully and really feels like he was always meant to be part of our family. Thank you for caring for him and giving us the opportunity to bring him home. We are so grateful — and I
